HARVARD ROWING PROSPECTS BEST IN YEARS

Only Captain Richardson Lost fro Last Year's Champions.

Candidates for the Harvard rowing squad reported on Wednesday, and in two or three days the rowing season will be on in full swing. A large num-ber of candidates have been doing a little work in the tank for almost a month, which shows in a measure the interest taken in the sport. Probably enough men will be taken on the 'varsity squad this week to make four crews, and these will be gradually weeded down to two crews, which will be kept until the New London races. It is felt that the new Charles river dam will be a distinct benefit to rowing at Harvard by doing away with Birthday, the extremely low tides and strong

Harvard's first race will come April Harvard's first race will come April 17 on the Charles river with Columbia. On May 30 the Crimson will row at Cornell, and then in June will come the Yale race. This year Coach Wray is out not only to beat Yale, but to down Columbia and repeat the victory over Cornell. The outlook at this date is certainly very promising.

There are enough men to make two first-class crews, but Coach Wray will not spend any time in developing three or four crews of as nearly equal strength as possible. Instead he will strength as possible. Instead he will put all his best men in the first boat as rapidly as possible, and from then on devote his chief attention to that crew.
